New! Explore sky in Google Earth

Google Earth

Free

Google Earth combines the power of Google Search with satellite imagery, maps, terrain and 3D buildings to put the world's geographic information at your fingertips.

- Fly to your house. Just type in an address, press Search, and you'll zoom right in.
- Search for schools, parks, restaurants, and hotels. Get driving directions.
- Tilt and rotate the view to see 3D terrain and buildings, or look up to explore the sky
- · Save and share your searches and favorites.

Since Google Earth was launched, users have been exploring our world and creating content overlays (KML files) to share their explorations with others. We're now highlighting user-created KML files each week in the new Google Earth Gallery. You can also choose to add the gallery's Google Gadget to your iGoogle page.

Summary

Red Hat, Inc. (Red Hat) is engaged in providing open source software solutions to the enterprise, including its core enterprise operating system platform, Red Hat Enterprise Linux, its enterprise middleware platform, JBoss Enterprise Middleware Suite (Boss Enterprise Middleware), and other Red Hat enterprise technologies. The Company employs an open source software development and licensing model that uses the collaborative input of an international community of contributors to develop software. In addition, under the open source licensing model, the collectively developed software is distributed under licenses, such as the GNU General Public License and GNU Lesser General Public License, permitting access to the human-readable source code of the software. Red Hat is organized primarily on the basis of three geographic business units: the Americas; Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA) and Asia Pacific. In June 2007, Red Hat acquired substantially all of the assets of MetaMatrix. Inc. More from Reuters »

Google Image Labeler

Welcome to Google Image Labeler, a feature of Google Search that allows you to label images and help improve the quality of Google's image search results.

Begin as guest

Change your nickname

How does it work?

You'll be randomly paired with a partner who's online and using the feature. Over a two-minute period, you and your partner will:

- · View the same set of images.
- · Provide as many labels as possible to describe each image you see.
- Receive points when your label matches your partner's label. The number of points will depend on how specific your label is.
- · See more images until time runs out.

After time expires, you can explore the images you've seen and the websites where those images were found. And we'll show you the points you've earned throughout the session.

Tips:

- You may click the "pass" button if you can't think of any more labels for an image. If you and your partner both click
 "pass," you'll see the next image but receive no points for the passed image
- You'll receive more points for matches with more descriptive labels. For example, this image can be described by the labels: sky (50 points), bird (60 points), soaring (120 points), or frigate bird (150 points).

What do you need to participate?

Just an interest in helping Google improve the relevance of image search for users like yourself. If you log in to your Google account, we will keep track of your points for you. You may also enter a nickname, but we do not require either a nickname or a login to use Google Image Labeler.

weather conditions.

• Weather Check the current weather conditions and forecast for any location in the U.S.

• Web Page Translation Provides you access to web pages in other languages.

• Who Links To You? Find pages that point to a specific URL.

Calculator

To use Google's built-in calculator function, simply enter the calculation you'd like done into the search box and hit the Enter key or click on the Google Search button. The calculator can solve math problems involving basic arithmetic, more complicated math, units of measure and conversions, and physical constants. Try one of the sample expressions below, or refer to our complete instructions for help in building your own.

These sample queries demonstrate the utility and power of this new feature:

- 5+2*2
- 2^20
- sqrt(-4)
- half a cup in teaspoons
- 160 pounds * 4000 feet in Calories

example: 5+2*2 Google Search

Currency Conversion

To use our built-in currency converter, simply enter the conversion you'd like done into the Google search box and hit "Enter" or click the Google Search button

Here are some sample queries:

- 3.5 USD in GBP
- currency of Brazil in Malaysian money
- 5 British pounds in South Korean money
- 2.2 USD per gallon in INR per litre

example: 3.5 USD in GBP Google Search

To see a definition for a word or phrase, simply type the word "define," then a space, and then the word(s) you want defined. If Google has seen a definition for the word or phrase on the Web, it will retrieve that information and display it at the top of your search results.

example: define World Wide Web Google Search

You can also get a list of definitions by including the special operator "define:" with no space between it and the term you want defined. For example, the search [define:World Wide Web] will show you a list of definitions for "World Wide Web" gathered from various online sources.

File Types

Google has expanded the number of non-HTML file types searched to 12 file formats. In addition to PDF documents, Google now searches Microsoft Office, PostScript, Corel WordPerfect, Lotus 1-2-3, and others. The new file types will simply appear in Google search results whenever they are relevant to the user query.

Google also offers the user the ability to "View as HTML", allowing users to examine the contents of these file formats even if the corresponding application is not installed. The "View as HTML" option also allows users to avoid viruses which are sometimes carried in certain file formats.

Overall, the additional file types provide Google users a wider view of the content available on the World Wide Web. And Google has plans to keep expanding the range of file types available over time.

For more information about this feature, please read the file type FAQ.

PhoneBook

Google has added the convenience of US street address and phone number lookup to the information we provide through our search box. You'll see publicly listed phone numbers and addresses at the top of results pages for searches that contain specific kinds of keywords.

To find listings for a US residence, type any of the following combinations into the Google search box:

- first name (or first initial), last name, city (state is optional)
- first name (or first initial), last name, state
- · first name (or first initial), last name, area code
- first name (or first initial), last name, zip code

Refine Your Search

For searches within certain topics, you'll notice links at the top of the search results page that help you quickly narrow your search.

Refine results for back pain:

Treatment Tests & diagnosis From medical establishment For health professionals

Symptoms Risk factors Alternative medicine For patients

These links are labels that have been assigned to certain webpages. Organizations, businesses, and individuals can label websites in the topics they know best. You can subscribe to more of these providers by visiting the Google Co-op directory.

example: san francisco Google Search

Search By Number

Parcel tracking IDs, patents and other specialized numbers can be entered into Google's search box for quick access to information about them. For example, typing a FedEx tracking number will return the latest information on your package. Other special search by number types include:

UPS tracking numbers
 example search: "1Z9999W9999999999"

• FedEx tracking numbers example search: "99999999999"

• USPS tracking numbers example search: "9999 9999 9999 9999 9999 999"

Vehicle ID (VIN) numbers example search: "AAAAA999A9AA99999"

UPC codes example search: "073333531084"

• Telephone area codes example search: "650"

• Patent numbers example search: "patent 5123123"

Remember to put the word "patent" before your patent number.

example: patent 5123123 Google Search

Are there other types of numbers you'd like Google to search? Please contact us.

Similar Pages

When you click on the "Similar Pages" link for a search result, Google automatically scouts the web for pages that are related to this result.

The Similar Pages feature can be used for many purposes. If you like a particular site's content, but wish it had more to say, Similar Pages can find sites with similar content with which you may be unfamiliar. If you are looking for product information, Similar Pages can find competitive information so you can make direct comparisons. If you are interested in researching a particular field, Similar Pages can help you find a large number of resources very quickly, without having to worry about selecting the right keywords.

The more specialized a page is, the fewer results Google will be able to find for you. For example, Similar Pages may not be able to find related pages for your personal home page if it does not have enough information to authoritatively associate other pages with yours. Also, if companies use multiple URLs for their pages (such as company.com and www.company.com), Similar Pages may have little information on one URL, but lots on the other. In general, however, Similar Pages works well for the majority of web pages.

Spell Checker

Google's spell checking software automatically looks at your query and checks to see if you are using the most common version of a word's spelling. If it calculates that you're likely to generate more relevant search results with an alternative spelling, it will ask "Did you mean: (more common spelling)?". Clicking on the suggested spelling will launch a Google search for that term. Because Google's spell check is based on occurrences of all words on the Internet, it is able to suggest common spellings for proper nouns (names and places) that might not appear in a standard spell check program or dictionary.

Stock and Fund Quotes

To use Google to get stock and mutual fund quotes, just enter the symbol into the search box.

Click on the chart or Google Finance link to see more relevant information from Google Finance. Alternatively, you can go directly to other financial information providers for more information by clicking on the links provided. These financial information providers are selected and ordered based on popularity determined by independent third party audience measurement firms. In addition, we consider important quality factors such as download speed, user interface and functionality. If you'd like to suggest a provider we might include, please contact us.

Street Maps

To use Google to find street maps, enter a U.S. street address, including zip code or city/ state (e.g. 165 University Ave Palo Alto CA), in the Google search box. Often, the street address and city name will be enough.

example: 165 University Ave Palo Alto CA Google Search

When Google recognizes your query as a map request, we'll show you your address on a Google map and enable you to obtain directions and store your default location.

Weather

To see weather conditions and a four-day forecast for a particular U.S. or worldwide location, type "weather," followed by the location. Usually a city name will be enough, but you may also want to include a state or zipcode or the country for worldwide cities. For example, to see Palo Alto weather, you could search for "weather palo alto, ca" or "weather palo alto 94301".

If you like to see the weather of this location on your personalized Google homepage, you can do this by clicking on the button 'Add to my Google homepage' in the upper right corner.

example: weather palo alto, ca Google Search

Web Page Translation

Google breaks the language barrier with this translation feature. Using machine translation technology, Google now gives you the ability to access web pages in languages other than your own. Currently, Google offers the following translation pairs: English to and from Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Korean, Japanese, Spanish, and Portuguese; and German to and from French.

If your search results contain a page in one of these languages, and we support your translation pair, you can translate that page into your language with a single click.

For more information about this feature, please read the translation FAQ.

Introducing Android

On Nov 5th, the Open Handset Alliance announced Android, a software stack for mobile devices including an operating system, middleware and key applications. Android was built from the ground-up to enable developers to create compelling mobile applications that take full advantage of all a handset has to offer. Developers can create applications for the platform using the Android SDK, which is now available.

Overview

Google's Linux software repositories make it easier to download and stay up-to-date with current releases of Google Linux applications. Please choose one of the guides below to help configure your system to use these repositories.

Step-by-step GUI Configuration

For step-by-step instructions using graphical tools, please choose your distribution from the list below. If your distribution is not listed, please try one of the command line guides.

- Ubuntu 7.04 (Feisty)
- Debian GNU/Linux 4.0
- openSUSE 10.2
- Mandriva 2007 Spring

Command Line Configuration

If your distribution is not covered by the GUI guides, or if you prefer to work with command line tools, below are instructions for several common package managers. Choose the one most appropriate for your system. Alternatively you could use the automated installation script to perform these actions.

- APT (Debian, Ubuntu, etc.)
- YUM (Fedora)
- urpmi (Mandriva)
- YaST2 (SUSE)
- RPM (Red Hat)

Google Labs > Experimental search

Google is always experimenting with new features aimed at improving the search experience. Take one for a spin and let us know what you think.

New! Join an experiment and you'll see that feature whenever you do a Google search. Note that you can only join ONE experiment at a time.

Alternate views for search results

Join this experiment

See results on a timeline, map, or in context of other information types. With these views, Google's technology extracts key dates, locations, measurements, and more from select search results so you can view the information in a different dimension.

Timeline and map views work best for searches related to people, companies, events and places. Info view shows all the data found for each result, to help you select the best choice.

Dream. Design. Communicate.

New! Build your Campus in 3D Competition (Australia and New Zealand)

Developed for the conceptual stages of design, Google SketchUp is a powerful yet easy-to-learn 3D software tool that combines a simple, yet robust tool-set with an intelligent drawing system that streamlines and simplifies 3D design. From simple to complex, conceptual to realistic, Google SketchUp enables you to build and modify 3D models quickly and easily. If you use Google Earth, Google SketchUp allows you to place your models using real-world coordinates and share them with the world using the Google 3D Warehouse.

- Simple: Learn the small toolset quickly
- Fast: Model as fast as you think
- Powerful: Design anything from a shoebox to a skyscraper
- Flexible: Make your models loose/conceptual or tight/accurate.
- Fun: Place your models in Google Earth

Google SketchUp 6

Free

Google SketchUp 6 is a 3D modeling software tool that's easy to learn, simple to use, and lets you place your models in Google Earth. Are you remodeling a kitchen, landscaping your back yard or adding a deck to your home? Google SketchUp makes it faster, easier and a lot more fun. From simple to complex, from conceptual to realistic, Google SketchUp helps you see your vision before you build it.

Once you've built your models, you can place them in Google Earth, post them to the 3D Warehouse.

Google SketchUp Pro 6

$495

Google SketchUp Pro 6 is a 3D modeling software tool that allows designers and planners to explore, communicate and present complex 3D concepts. Its import/export capability gives you the speed and functionality for use in a professional workflow. And now, with SketchUp Pro 6's LayOut (beta) feature, you can integrate 3D models with 2D elements to create compelling interactive presentations. LayOut (beta) also enables you to output large-format, high-resolution documents.

L'idea alla base di Linux frasario è di dare esempi pratici di Linux comandi e la loro miriade di opzioni, con esempi per tutto. Troppo spesso un utente Linux sarà un comando al fine di scoprire come funziona, e mentre il comando e le sue numerose opzioni saranno dettagliate, qualcosa di vitale importanza sarà lasciato fuori: esempi. Ecco dove Linux viene frasario ho coprire un numero enorme di comandi e le loro diverse opzioni, e per ogni singolo, dò un esempio di utilizzo e di risultati, che rende chiaro come usarlo.

2. How does Google Web Accelerator work?

Google Web Accelerator uses various strategies to make your web pages load faster, including:

- Sending your page requests through Google machines dedicated to handling Google Web Accelerator traffic.
- Storing copies of frequently looked at pages to make them quickly accessible.
- Downloading only the updates if a web page has changed slightly since you last viewed it.
- Prefetching certain pages onto your computer in advance.
- Managing your Internet connection to reduce delays.
- · Compressing data before sending it to your computer.
